

HAPPINESS

Since ancient times, people have wanted to become happy; it is the ultimate goal of any human endeavour. Happiness has been sought through education, religion, and hard work. In spite of this, however, how many of us are really happy? Most people have lived in circumstances that were generally unhappy, and have finally left this world without knowing the true joy of fulfilling their dreams.

Is it then so difficult to attain true happiness? To this question I would like to answer "NO!" The basic requisite for living happily is that a person has, first of all, to be freed from the three great negative conditions – disease, poverty, and conflict. However, as a well-known proverb points out, "It is easier said than done," and most people resign themselves to one or more of these.

Everything that occurs has its cause and effect. This applies also to happiness; therefore, we should begin to resolve the issue of unhappiness by learning its true cause. As long as we are ignorant of this, there can be no possibility of attaining happiness, however hard we may try to do so.

What, then, is the cause of unhappiness? The ancient saying, "What you give to others comes back to you," is an eternal truth. Understanding this and thus seeking to make others happy is absolutely required in order to achieve happiness for ourselves.

However, there are too many individuals in this world who think only of attaining happiness for themselves, without giving thought to the unhappy states of others. This is a truly foolish attitude because, in trying to reap the fruits of happiness, they are sowing the seeds of unhappiness.

Christianity teaches forgiveness and Buddhism teaches compassion. In either teaching, the true objective is to implant in one's mind a love for others, a desire to work for the welfare of others. It is as simple as that; but even such a simple principle as the law of cause and effect is very difficult for a human being to understand. This is why God has effected the appearance of various spiritual teachings, has provided standards of proper thoughts, words, and deeds, has offered knowledge of the existence of the invisible, and has guided ministers or priests to devote their lives to leading people to true faith.

However, it is quite difficult to awaken even one person to Truth. This is because people in general have had a belief in materialism implanted firmly by their education, which has taught them to believe only in the visible and tangible. Therefore, in most cases, they will not give any attention to Spiritual teachings. Prisoners of this delusion, they wander about in darkness, suffer constantly, and then finally depart from this life. What an empty life that is!

If there is any way by which we can experience true joy and delight while on this earth, can live with peace of mind, can enjoy longevity and can attain true happiness, then, this world will be a paradise, a place worth living in. Most of you may have resigned yourselves, thinking that such a happy life is impossible in this "veil of tears." But we say positively that there is one sure method of attaining happiness, and I offer these articles to convey that method to you.

WE WILL RETURN TO HEAVEN AND LIVE WITH GOD

Greetings to everyone, and welcome to today's Risshun Service.

With a deep sense of awe, I acknowledge that the Supreme God is vividly alive within each one of us, within each and every existence. God's purpose in creating the universe, I believe, is to make all of humanity return to His Heaven, and make them to be newly born as His true children, in order to establish paradise on earth.

We are all connected with Meishu-sama, who was newly born as messiah following this intention of God. Each one of us is being nurtured and raised to cultivate the mind to serve God, together with all of humanity, with their parents and ancestors, and along with all of creation.

I am very grateful that today, on this day of Risshun, the beginning of spring, I am allowed to praise God, who is with Meishu-sama, together with all of you, with a fresh frame of mind, and pray that His Wish be accomplished in each one of us.

THE SACRED GROUNDS AT THE CENTER OF OUR CONSCIOUSNESS

I am very happy to hear that you members of the Izunome Kyodan are continuing your daily efforts in the practice of "Sonen of Gratitude," and "one extra gesture of love for others" to turn your Sonen, thought and consciousness, which you regarded as yours, to the Sonen where God and Meishu-sama can manifest themselves. And, through this, you are trying to share the joy of bringing happiness to others with as many people as possible. I am grateful and happy that you are making these efforts.

I also appreciate your efforts and your dedication for the construction and improvement of the prototypes of paradise, the Sacred Grounds in Hakone, Atami and Kyoto, which were originally created by Meishu-sama. By serving in this God's work, we can reaffirm that the heaven which is the "eternal Sacred Ground" exists at the center of our consciousness. Thus, Meishu-sama is cultivating our minds so that we can reside in heaven. For this, we can all be grateful to Meishu-sama.

GOD WANTS TO BRING US, HIS SPIRITUAL CHILDREN, BACK TO HEAVEN

There exists a Consciousness which is the source of everything. We call this Consciousness 'God.' God is an eternal Consciousness, eternal Life and eternal Soul.

Meishu-sama composed a series of verses under the title of "Praising God." One of them says, "Among all the living things on this physical world, none of them is left out of God's blessings." Through this verse, Meishu-sama acknowledges that everything that was created exists receiving God's blessings. He is praising God through this and other verses.

Heaven, which was prepared by God, is the dimension of the source of creation, and therefore, humanity and everything else that exist there, are in oneness with God. In Heaven, we are also in oneness with Meishu-sama; we are one with all of humanity, their parents and ancestors, and one with everything, together with Meishu-sama.

For this reason, we are "even now" united as one with Meishu-sama, with all of humanity, their parents and ancestors, and with everything in the universe. Because we are united with Meishu-sama, I believe we can return to and become one with God, through Meishu-sama.

God gave birth to us, as His own spiritual children and individualized souls of Himself. He endowed within us His own eternal Consciousness, eternal Life and eternal Soul. He sent us to this earth plane, and gave each one of us the consciousness of "self." God is advancing His plan of salvation of humanity and construction of Paradise on Earth, with the intention of bringing us, His children with self-awareness, back again to heaven, making us newly born as His true children who can live with Him in heaven.

GOD IS WORKING CONSTANTLY WITHIN US

While living on this earth plane, we naturally have to make a distinction between our public, official activities and our private activities. However, since everything is included within God's Plan of construction of paradise on earth, all of our life and activities can be regarded as official, public ones, from God's viewpoint.

Meishu-sama wrote, "In order to turn this world into paradise, we have to think of the basic elements constituting this world. After all, this world consists of individual human beings." What he meant is that salvation of each person and each home leads to salvation of the world. We need to regard our personal matters and our family matters as not just our personal and private matters, but as small-scale prototypes of all of humanity, and that they are closely related to all of humanity in the world.

God, together with Meishu-sama, is using us in every time and every place, and utilizing us always for His public activities, named "God's Plan." Even though I was aware of this, probably I did not recognize clearly in the past that God was definitely working and functioning within myself. It is not enough to become aware of this, but it is necessary for us to recognize it clearly as a definite fact, and express it; namely, to report it to God. For us to express it in this way means nothing less than praising God.

In the past, rather than recognize that God is working constantly within us, we simply tried to find personal happiness for ourselves, or tried to promote our own righteousness or opinions. Humanity has only repeated this practice of putting priority on our own wish over God's wish in our prayers. God, who resides with Meishu-sama, forgave us, humanity, with His boundless love, and accomplished the turning from Night to Day in order to welcome us back to His heaven.

THE PATH OF SALVATION HAS ALREADY BEEN PREPARED

Because this turning from night to day has already been achieved, the path of our salvation through which humanity can return to heaven has already been prepared. Salvation depends on whether we can have a firm belief that this path has been already prepared. Only because this path is already prepared, can we return to heaven through Johrei, and through other practices of salvation.

Meishu-sama said in his verse, "Though invisible to limited human sight, God's Plan has already been achieved in the world of spirit." We now live in the totally new phase of the world after the turning from the Age of Night to the Daylight Age. This brilliant bright light of the Daylight Age is shining at the center of the consciousness of each of us human beings, illuminating all corners of our minds and bodies, and purifying us.

Many problems and issues are coming up to the surface in every part of the world, and also numerous conflicts and discords are becoming manifest and apparent around us in our daily life. It is because God's Light is becoming apparent, illuminating those things that have been hidden within us, and welcoming us into heaven, which is the source of light.

In our daily life, we are guided by God to witness, hear and feel various things. That means that God is using us as His official, public vehicles and instruments, and God is working within us. There is an expression, "Man turns to God when in trouble." When we are suffering from something, we often feel the urge to pray to Him earnestly, asking for relief. We want to be freed from that suffering, and we want to get rid of that suffering. But, isn't God really working when we are in suffering? Let us remember that when we are suffering, that moment is the very time when God is encouraging us and powerfully working within us.

GOD CAN UNITE THE POSITIVE AND THE NEGATIVE FOR GREATER HARMONY

God has the power for greater harmony. When we feel suffering, it does not mean that God is not working within us or God has abandoned us, but in truth, God is letting us know that He is in the process of accomplishing His Plan, uniting and harmonizing both the positive and the negative, bringing about the greater harmony. Meishu-sama composed a verse, "Open up your eyes and see the true state of God's work. Beneath the surface of the destruction, God is busily using His hammer of construction." Through this verse he is teaching us that destruction and construction are not two separate functions, but they are functioning together, simultaneously, as two sides of a coin.

When the process of destruction is affecting you, you might feel pain and suffering. But, destruction is certainly accompanied by a creative and positive process at the same time. For example, when you have some concern about your health, or other problems, and your mind is burdened with these worries, you often try to leave these difficulties, what you perceive as "negative," in God's hands, in your attempt to be relieved of them. But the best thing you can do is to leave these concerns in God's hands as evidence of God's work, of bringing together the positive and the negative and creating greater harmony.

Even if we don't fully understand God's intention, the first and the most important step is for us to recognize that God is working in any given situation, remembering that God has looked at the issue we have been worrying about, and has extended His helping hand to that particular point with His love and forgiveness. If once we remember it, even in a moment, since the path of salvation has been already prepared, we can have this thought, "I would like to return to heaven, together with all of humanity and all things, and would like to serve in God's work for harmony, under the greater harmony of God." Having such thought, offering such thought to God and leaving such thought of ours in God's hands are the reasons for our existence. If we can express such thought and report it to God, God will cultivate and increase within us the kind of attitude to serve in the Daylight Age, together with everything in the universe.

WE OFFER OURSELVES TO GOD AND RETURN TO HEAVEN THROUGH MONETARY DONATIONS

Another way for us to serve in God's work is to give donation to God's cause. For example, we offer money or give donation for the construction projects.

By the way, what does money mean in our life? When we buy or sell things in this present time, we use money, instead of exchanging things as we used to do in olden times. We use money for our economic activities, and therefore, money is the standard of value for all of creation. We are one with everything in the universe, and we cannot live without money, along with the blessings of everything in the universe.

We have been using everything in the universe, and money that represents it, as ours, and have been setting its price and freely using money to buy or sell things. We have been able to do these activities only because God allows us to do so. Everything in the universe, including money, belongs to God. We ourselves, who have been using all things and money, belong to God, too. When we offer money to God in the form of donation, it really means that we return ourselves, along with money, to God, who is the original owner of everything.

We are entrusted with money by God and keep temporary custody of it, and we offer a part of that money to God. That is the outer form of donation, but in our thought, we can do this donation with the idea of offering ourselves to God and leaving ourselves in God's hands through Meishu-sama, and returning to the center of our consciousness called heaven, together with all of humanity and their parents and ancestors, and together with everything in the universe. That would be more in harmony with God's Will.

We have been using our mind and our bodies, money and everything freely, as our own, but God forgave us for such an attitude. That is why, through our service of donation, God is accepting us, and everything that is connected to us. In this sense, the fact that we can serve God through donation is a big blessing from God.

Whatever amount of money left with us after giving donation also belongs to God, entrusted to us by God for our temporary custody. Even when we use that money for our living and for our personal use, we can do so with the idea of saying to that money that we will serve God together, and return to heaven, which is the source of our life. This is our duty and the way of God's nurturing us, because our ultimate spiritual home is in heaven and we are the public, official vehicles and instruments of God.

THE LOVE OF GOD FOR US, AS OUR TRUE SPIRITUAL PARENT, IS SO GREAT

The fact that God is raising us and bringing us up through Meishu-sama is an indication of God's deep, profound love for us, which is beyond our imagination. In our human relationships, if someone is disrespectful to us or was against us, we feel like blaming that person, or even retaliating and punishing that person. God is fully aware of our arrogant mind, with which we have ignored and neglected God, but He forgave us, does not try to destroy us completely, and even allows us to praise God and pray to Him and utter words of gratitude.

This is because God has a strong wish to raise us to become true children of God, and make us live in heaven,

Kyoshu-Sama and Pilgrims at Atami Sacred Grounds, Japan

no matter what. This is how I feel about this. Truly, God's love for us is so deep and so great. Meishu-sama composed these two verses: "As I marvel at the vast and expansive beauty of the sky, I am always reminded of God's limitless, infinite love for me" (Prayer Book page 84), and "God's love and blessings for us are so great, higher than the highest mountains, and deeper than the deepest oceans." These verses truly express this truth.

God is not only our "natural parent", but also our "foster parent" who is constantly nurturing us and raising us. We, together with Meishu-sama, would like to serve God, who is both our "natural parent" and "foster parent," and respond even a little to His love so that He can be joyous, and share this God's joy with everybody and everything.

In conclusion, I pray that the breath of life from God, who is with Meishu-sama, will be spread to everybody and everything through you, and would revive everything, like a spring breeze, and that those of you who are serving God in this way be able to live every day with hope and courage, with joy and a bright outlook. Thank you very much.

A GREAT MIRACLE OCCURED AS A RESULT OF MY DEDICATION IN PORTO

Veichali - England

I am a student of a modular course and I had a module to attend in the week of the trip to Porto. Moreover, on the Friday, the day of our travel, I was going to have late classes. As the coordinator had rejected my request to skip the last lecture, I was just feeling worried and anxious when I received a timetable update: the late Friday lecture was cancelled because the lecturer was no longer available. This allowed me to have enough time to reach the airport comfortably and on time.

So the chain of miracles started even BEFORE I went to Porto!

Ever since I can remember, I have always had serious problems with travel sickness. Travelling became much easier after I discovered anti-nausea drugs and I've been taking them for 10 years now. But this time I tried travelling without taking the pills. The flight was wonderful; and I didn't have any symptoms returning to the UK either. It was a big surprise to everyone who knows me and also to me. I am completely cured; Thanks to God and to the Messiah Meishu-Sama.

In Porto, one more coincidence: I ended up staying with the sister of the person who introduced my family and myself to Johrei back in my home country of Mozambique. That was a moment of great joy and amazement. This family has a collection of souvenirs from every country they had visited. But although they had been to the UK before, they didn't have anything from here. She told me this when I gave her a souvenir from London. I realised that God is not only the creator of everything, but He also manages every detail of our lives.

On the following day, we were having a lovely dedication when everyone was explaining how they were going through purifications and many of them had dreamt of Meishu-Sama.

That wasn't happening to me, which made me think that there was something wrong with me and I started to feel envious and unworthy. Feeling I must be doing something wrong, I spent the whole afternoon working harder, engrossed in my dedication.

That evening, I had the opportunity to attend a Hindu community festival. Just when I was feeling very sad and having doubts, and really wishing to have some purification or illness like the others, my ancestors gave me a sign: I met two elderly men who said they knew my grandfather - which I believed to be a very strange coincidence. On the following day, the minister explained that that was a sign of the happiness and presence of my ancestors.

One main reason I was going to Porto was to dedicate on behalf of my father-in-law, who had a stone in his kidney which was detected last year. Since then, we had been waiting about six months for an operation to remove it, and we didn't know when it would be. While we were in Porto I phoned my husband on Saturday and the operation had just come up and was scheduled for the Monday! I knew I would get home too late on Sunday evening to channel Johrei to him; he doesn't believe in Johrei so he wouldn't have let me channel to him so late.

Before returning to the airport on Sunday, I was given a flower from the Ikebana which had been on the altar at the new headquarters site. I had decided to give him the flower from the altar. I managed to bring it to the UK, holding it in my hand all the way, despite all the airport security. Actually, I wanted to give this blessed flower to my father-in-law before he had his operation on the following Monday.

On Sunday night he waited up for me to come home. As it was Fathers Day on Saturday, when I got home, I tricked him! I told him that I brought the flower especially for him as a gift. He took it to his room and put it on his bedside table.

The following day, he underwent the surgery, but the doctors were unable to find the stone; the 7 mm stone had miraculously gone from his kidney. The same thing also happened to another Portuguese patient, on the same ward under the same doctor, who had the same operation just a few minutes before my father-in-law. Both men's kidney stones were found to be missing that morning! Then I remembered that in Porto we had been sieving the soil to clean it of stones and pieces of concrete.

Our dedication can move the entire universe! Do we need greater proof than this?

In addition to all these joys and miracles, the experience of dedication was very special to me, because now I am part of the Johrei family. Before, whenever I came to the UK, I felt very isolated and used to miss my country. Today, I feel I am part of a family. I was able to make new friends and know more women in the same situation as me who are living in families that do not believe in Johrei. This has given me strength.

This was my first opportunity to dedicate and I decided to really enjoy those two days without any worries or anxieties. And it resulted in a chain of miracles. I learnt that getting worried doesn't take us anywhere; instead it reduces our well-being and faith. We have to leave it in God's hands and He will solve everything at the right time. Our task is to dedicate and polish our soul without worrying about the results. If our souls grow, everything that surrounds us grows automatically without any further struggle. My family, who initially didn't believe in Johrei, are now intrigued by it. I don't know where and when is the next step, but I will continue to play my part for it to happen.

I can't describe the feeling of being in Porto but if I had to say something, it would be: "I spent two beautiful days in Paradise, in God's lap...". This was what I told my husband when I came back and I am looking forward to going back to the PARADISE...

MY BELIEF THAT WE PURIFY FOR OTHERS HAS BEEN STRENGTHENED BY EXPERIENCE

Eliza - England

1st of April 2011

It's been two weeks since we departed for the dedication at the site for the Europe's Headquarters of Johrei, in Porto.

Some days before the trip to Porto, a friend of mine who was also going to Porto and was purifying with depression asked me a couple of times whether I was undergoing some sort of purification. She seemed surprised that I was feeling well and had no signs of purification of any kind for at least a month. I must confess that at that moment I was proud of myself for the permission given to me by God and Meishu-Sama of being blessed with no purification of any kind. I even thought that not having purification was a greater blessing than having one. Until then, I couldn't realise or feel how great and meaningful that apparently simple mission was.

On Thursday, a day before the departure to Porto, my beliefs were proved to be wrong. I felt a strange pain on my back next to my hips. I thought it was nothing serious as the pain had gone after a few minutes and the Practice of Sonen. But soon afterwards the pain came back so much stronger than before that I could barely stand upright. Then I realised that that strange pain was not physical, but spiritual since I never usually have problems with my back.

I was beginning to panic thinking I would not have permission to go and dedicate in Porto if the pain goes on.

I did self-Johrei and the Practice of Sonen surrendering to God and Meishu-sama the feelings of all my ancestors who were manifesting through my feelings of pain and fears.

After some time, I felt better and the pain had gone. However, later on, the pain came back and whenever I would give Johrei to my husband and my daughter, the pain would go. I understood it was my ancestors response to the light they were already receiving with our dedication that was going to take place in the physical plane as it had happened already in the spiritual realm.

That same night my 4 yr old daughter, who was asleep, suddenly woke up crying and walked upstairs to the room where I was sitting. I asked her if she wanted to receive Johrei and she did. She said she had a strong headache, so much so she was crying, convulsing and kicking whilst sitting down and receiving Johrei. She looked so miserable that I failed in my faith and deviated from my feelings of gratitude, thinking: "I'm sorry Meishu-Sama, but how hard it is to be grateful at this moment, watching her in pain and feeling powerless..." At that exact moment she stood up as if she had heard my thoughts and staring into my eyes she started walking away, crying and yelled at me while pointing her finger at me: "Don't stop giving Johrei, never stop giving Johrei, ok?" This happened so unexpectedly and I was astonished by her reaction. But soon afterwards, I realised that this incident was another message from my ancestors before my trip to Porto.

Due to that incident I've gratefully committed myself to give Johrei to others more often. That night the pain in my back vanished completely and I was feeling very grateful, connecting every single event of the day to one another and to the trip to Porto.

The following day, on Friday, I really felt well and happy, and so was my daughter, renewed as if nothing had happened the night before. She couldn't even remember or believe me when I told her about her demands for me to give non-stop Johrei, because she usually asks me for "just a little bit of Johrei!"

I had done a lot of Practice of Sonen of Gratitude for the family that was going to host me, although I didn't even know them, but I learned about their loving dedication in preparing to receive me and help me and my ancestors to dedicate and be useful instruments of God and Meishu-Sama.

When I arrived there I was overwhelmed to receive such a warm welcome and such loving hospitality from them. I'll never forget the time I spent with them.

The dedication in Porto went so well; it was great and joyful. And during my dedication at the site, I didn't feel any pain in my back at all, not even when I was leaning down in an awkward position, while sorting and picking up stones off the ground. What an amazing experience I had! The emotions and joy I felt being on the land as I first stepped in were not mine but the feelings of my ancestors being manifested through me, and it was much greater than what I had expected or imagined it would be! I certainly felt that that land where the European Headquarters of Johrei will be based was indeed a very sacred place and special for the UK and for Europe, as it will be a focal point from where the Light will spread out to the whole continent.

Once I was back in London, I learned that my daughter had been purifying since she and my husband had dropped me off at the airport. She caught the seasonal flu, which lasted more than a week. That was the worst flu she ever had, but I kept my faith strong when the nurse recommended that I make an appointment to see the GP on day 6, when her situation didn't seem to be improving. The nurse said to me over the phone that I should buy some pain relief to give my daughter and that at the GP appointment the doctor might prescribe her with some medication to lower her temperature. That worried me a lot as I knew how dangerous it could be to try to stop a fever or to lower high temperatures by means of medicines so I decided to give her more intense Johrei and leave her in the hands of God.

On day 10, I took her to the doctors for a quick check-up and after listening carefully to her heart beat, the doctor told me she had caught a chest infection on top of the seasonal flu, which was why she developed a high fever, feeling of tiredness and loss of appetite even after she had stopped vomiting.

The doctor prescribed her some antibiotics, but as she had never been given any medicines, he also said she would naturally overcome it with no need for antibiotics.

At that point, I started to become more convinced that we do purify for the whole of humanity, and I could confirm that through my own daughter's purification.

I and my husband would so much have wished for either of us to have purified on her behalf, not for our daughter to purify on behalf us.

I thought, "I had my backache on the day before the trip, why didn't it carry on like that?"

Thinking clearly, I am now aware that our ancestors chose her to purify so that I would have the conditions to go and dedicate in Porto. I feel our ancestors knew she would overcome the purification naturally with my growing faith, Johrei and us parents looking after her. I am also grateful that my husband had booked days off work in advance to look after her, and my healthy condition allowed me to take over and carry on looking after her once I was back home from our blessed trip.

She fully recovered from the purification by day 13 with no medication except rest, Johrei, faith, love and gratitude. They are the main and most powerful remedies of all!

After all, it was planned in the spiritual world that my daughter should take on all my purifications, at least for this special moment of our dedication in Porto; together with our ancestors, she was also given the permission to dedicate with us in that way, through her purification.

I also believe that our ancestors received so much Light from our dedications that as a result, many of their clouds were dispelled in the form of toxins through my daughter's vomiting and fever.

Thanks to God and Meishu-Sama for having blessed my daughter and given her permission to become healthier than before she fell ill.

Thanks to God and Meishu-Sama for giving me the permission to understand better through my own experiences what we've been guided in for years by Kyoshu-Sama, reverends and the ministers with the message, "we purify for the whole of humanity". This has been proven to me to be the truth.

In fact, all sorts of purifications, ours and others, are just as much great blessings as being in good health, since purification is a great divine permission given to us by God and Meishu-sama to achieve happiness.

I am also very grateful to God and Meishu-Sama for giving me the permission to understand better that the dedication for the construction of the European Headquarters of Johrei is one more way to save many ancestors!
